City Finances Good Despite Utility Losses

Conservative curtailment in antic pation of losses will bring the city through the present fiscal year without a deficit, City Manager A. V. Aronson said today. The city's year will end

At the end of the first half of the city's fiscal year, ending Dec. 31, 1952, the city's expenditures were $125,334.81 under estimates, according to a report of operations to the City Council by Alfred Lawrence, city comptroller.

The city had estimated it would spend $475,785.93 in the first six months of the fiscal year, but actually spent $350,451.12, leaving a balance of $125,334.81 in the city's general fund.

Work Program

The expenditure figures do not include, however, the city's share 480.26, thereby reducing the under-expenditure figure to $97,-854.55 for the first six months of the fiscal year.

"Part of the under-expenditure represents cut-backs in program and savings on completed work." Comptroller Lawrence reported.

Both the gas and steam utilities paid taxes and interest on investment charges to the city, however, so the city's actual out-ofpocket loss was reduced to $9,-217.75 for the gas utility and $16,-111.65 for the steam utility. A change in the billing proce-

March Of Dimes Reaches $11,700

Dimes campaign fun to fight polio has been concluded with the announcement by Atty. John Root that a total of $11,700.15 has been received in contributions to date.

This is $1,700.15 above the $10. 000 goal established for Delta county at the beginning of the drive.

"There is the possibility that some contributions will still be received," Chairman Root said. "These will be most welcome. The need is great and every penny received will aid in a program of care and treatment for polio patients and to continue the program of a disease that last year alone struck 57 persons and caused three deaths in Delta county."

Contributions should be addressed to March of Dimes, Escanaba, Mich.

Appreciation to all of the persons and organizations contributing to the March of Dimes, and to the members of the polio fund committee who assisted in the drive in Gladstone, Escanaba, and the townships was voiced by Chairman Root.

Last year the amount raised in the March of Dimes totaled $6.666.25.

Because of the polio epidemic last year the Delta County Chapter. National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, incurred many bills and obligations that are still outstanding. The generous response to the Chapter's appeal for funds will help pay off these obligations in caring for the victims of the disease, some of whom are still receiving hospital treatment.

The need for new scohol space at the elementary level is pressing. It cannot be further postponed. The cost to individual per $1,000 assessed valuation for a period of nine years or less. Thus, a property owner whose home is assessed for $2,000 would pay a maximum of only $6 per year, and probably even less than that, for a period of about nine years.

The new school with special education facilities is estimated to cost $400,000 but only $250,000 would be borne by assessment against taxpayers. The remaining rine Bonifas gift to the Escanaba School

It is obvious from these figures that the proposed new school would not be a financial burden to any taxpayers but it would meet a highly critical need.

Dollar A Mile Penalty In Government

THE stretch of 118 miles that is the New Jersey Turnpike has been such a death trap since it was opened last year, that a limit of 60 miles an hour has been fixed as the top speed on its smooth lanes. All the law enforcement agencies of the state are determined to maintain this limit.

The Chief Justice of the State Supremo Court, the Attorney General and the Superintendent of State Police met with the thirty-five magistrates along the turnpike to devise a uniform program of enforcement. To curb speeders, they decided to levy a fine of a dollar a mile for every mile in excess of sixty miles an hour clocked by a state trooper on a motorist.

The adjoining Pennsylvania turnpike has no speed limit on the open stretches. Motorists leaving the state naturally continue at top speed on the more congested Jersey turnpike. These expressways are becoming a national network. Speed regulations will have to cover all if traffic hazards are to be reduced along their inviting expanses.

WASHINGTON-With Kansas Republicans seething and many Kansas Republican newspapers irately editorializing, the Republican executive committee, meeting today, will consider the case of the Kansas Republican who is now GOP National Specifically, what Republican leaders are vorried about is the sale of a hospital to the state of Kansas which already stood on state-owned land, and on which GOP Chairman Wesley Roberts collected a commission of $11,000.

Why, say many Kansas Republicans should Kansas have bought the hospital for $110,000 when the state owned it anyway? And why should Roberts, who was not registered as a lobbyist, have collected $11,000—a 10 per cent commission?

Republicans recall that they themselves raised cain over a fee one-tenth as large-$1,250-paid to Democratic Chairman Bill Boyle in connection with an RFC loan to the American Lithifold Co. And they frankly say they fear Roberts' $11,000 fee will boomerang. Hence, today's special meeting.

Background of the story goes back to 1927, when the Ancient Order of United Workmen, a fraternal insurance organization, built a hospital on state property alongside the state tuberculosis sanitorium in Norton, Kans. The latter was crowded at the time, AOUW couldn't get its members in, so it was agreed that state doctors would care for AOUW patients in the AOUW hospital alngside the state hospital.

FEE WAS SECRET

Time passed, membership in the Ancient Order of United Workmen dwindled, and by 1951 it had only one patient in the building, all the others being state patients. So, in March, 1951, the state legislature appropriated $110,000 to buy the hosney General William Smith, now on the Kansas Supreme Court, had stated when the building was built in 1928: "the building will belong to the state, and the state will be in entire charge.'

Also attached to the building contract when it was signed in 1927, was a letter from state business manager Charles S. Huffman: Should the AOUW in the future

TAKING A PICTURE-One good photograph is said to tell more than a thousand words and is apparently worth a thousand dollars to the nation's leading magazines. Certainly the editors of Collier's, searching for a picture of an old-fashioned ice harvesting, spent considerable time and money before they found what they want-

Alfred Lansing, outdoor editor of Collier's, and Martin Iger, the magazine's photographer, flew three trips to Beaver Island from Escanaba to find the ice-harvesting picture they had sought for all through the northern

John Chriske, Escanaba district supervisor for the Department of Conservation, was called upon for help in locating a place where ice was still harvested by hand and by horse. After considerable inquiry he came up with the answer-St. James at Beaver Island, some 80 miles east of Escanaba in Lake Michigan.

RELUCTANT SUN-The Collier's men arranged with Fred Sensiba of Pioneer Aviation to have Allan Brukardt fly them to Beaver Island

The first flight was made on Feb. 13, Friday the 13th, and the men found what they wanted-but overcast sky prevented taking the color photos they wanted. So Brukardt flew them over again on the

On the 15th Brukardt took Lansing as a passenger and Iger, who holds a private pilot's license, flew another Pioneer Aviation plane. That day the sun came out from behind the clouds, Iger shot the outdoor pictures he needed, and the mission was accomplished.

In reply to questions, the Collier's men said they were not sure when the photostory on old-fashioned ice cutting would run in the magazine. Probably not until next winter.

OUT OF RANGE-This is a change of subject, but it is still within the scope of distance and pictures. Bert Farquhar, operations manager of WBAY-TV of Green Bay, speaking in Menominee a short time ago, gave encourceivers who live in this non-TV station Briefly, Farquhar said it will start regular telecasting March 17, and next summer plans to heighten its antenna and increase agement to those owners of television re-its signal power to 60 kilowatts. Menominee and Marinete will, therefore, be well within the marginal range of the Green Bay TV station next summer; but it will be outside the station's range until the signal power is stepped

What about those owners of TV sets in Escanaba? They will still be outside the "good coverage" range for the Green Bay station-but there is hope that Milwaukee's stepped-up power and higher antenna will bring better reception later this

Meanwhile, Menominee and Marinette should get "good picture quality six nights a week" from Green Bay.

FRIENDS IN NEED-Folks in one neighborhood in Escanaba have found a couple friends in need when snowstorms

These friends are George Hirn of 924 Seventh Ave. S., and Bud Stegath, who lives nearby. It is the practice of Hirn to get out his power snowplow after a storm and clear sidewalks and driveways for some of his neighbors. After a recent storm Bud Stegath brought out his jeep with a snowplow attached to the front and cleared drives and walks in the neighborhood.

FAST ACTION-When the city of Escanaba agreed to remove Northern Motor Rebuilders from the Stephenson Avenue location to permit expansion of Harnischfeger welder plant operations, it did not expect Harnischfeger to take such fast action in building a new warehouse.

"We are ready to go. Contracts are ready to be signed," said William Hitzelberger, Harnischfeger plant engineer. "Will the City Council approve the lease for a warehouse site on Stephenson Avenue?"

The City Council not only would but did, within a couple hours of the request Note: Harnischfeger's goal is to add 154 employes, birng its total employment te over 1,000 "very soon," according to Herman Menck, Harnischfeger vice presi-

This is the gaming season for the teen - age set. Not the wild duck or turkey shoot. Nor "Postmaster" nor "Spin-the-bottle." The kids are playing old standbys such as checkers, chess, parcheesi and Monopoly.

It seems that games came back into vogue because of TV, which sounds like a paradox. But with the entire family congregating around the television machine of an evening, there is agreement occasionally that certain programs are boring. So what to do? Well, why not play a game.

Some teen - agers have running games that can go on for days whenever there is a television break. Monopoly seems to be just as popular in this respect as it was 20 years ago. And some kids have several sets of games, throwing Monopoly parties whenever it suits their mood.

Dainty Aprons Keep You Fresh And Always Ready for Company

has a wardrobe of aprons to keep her immaculate and presentable at all times. No spotted butcher's type of apron hastily hund behind the door when company comes will ever do for her. She has many starched and dainty ones all ready to change into when she hears the doorbell ring - for she must protect her clothing while cooking even when guests are around. But the everyday apron doesn't have to be all practicality and no glamor. Why not enjoy wearing your apron every time you have one on? For bathing baby, or for many other housewifely chores, an attractive and useful one is in terry cloth that absorbs spatters and has a row of spacious pockets along the bottom. Among the others taking top honors for practicality are the vinyl plastics. Just sponge them off with soapy water to clean. You don't have to look plain in
